In early 2021, Scottish Families was commissioned by the Scottish Government to lead a family engagement project in partnership with Action for Children, All in the Family and Circle. The aim of this project was to test out a new set of national Principles around whole family support and family inclusive practice. This family engagement project aimed to reach children, young people and adults affected by alcohol and drugs and receiving family support. This included family members receiving support due to other's substance use, and those supported due to their own current or previous substance use. We wanted to test out how far the Principles as drafted were supported by families (i.e. top down), and how far families' own descriptions of family support aligned with the draft Principles (i.e. bottom up). We encouraged our partners to use creative and family-friendly engagement activities to ask these questions, and to present the findings. This webinar will share our findings, including the results of our national survey of family members, and the contents of a virtual exhibition which displays the creative output from the family engagement activities.

A link to a recording of this AFINet Webinar, and the PowerPoint presentation, will be available on the AFINet website following this Webinar, as is the case with previous ones. Future AFINet Webinars are advertised on the AFINet website.

This AFINet Webinar series is part of AFINet [<http://www.afinetwork.info/>], which is a free-to-join Network, providing a platform which:

- * brings together researchers, policy-makers, practitioners, and experts through experience;
- * promotes the well-being of family members, friends and colleagues who are affected by or concerned about another person's problems with or addiction to alcohol, drugs or gambling;
- * and develops research, policy, practice, and advocacy in the field.

AFINet Membership (free) is by application:
